GTR COMMODITIES 2024 GENEVA

Welcoming over 400 participants back to Geneva, GTR Commodities returned on September 28, 2023 as the premier gathering for the global commodity financing sector.

Discussion at this year's meeting featured an in-depth assessment of emerging market and corporate financing challenges, and how traders and lenders are navigating the risks and market turbulence of geopolitics, inflation, and commodity supply shortfalls.

The range of conversation was spread across key areas for the evolving trade landscape, from balancing long-term energy project financing and current energy needs, to the supply chain, inventory and financing bottlenecks gathering pace across raw materials.

Further analysis was centred around working capital and deep-tier supply chain financing solutions, strategies to better synergise the 'E' and 'S' in ESG, and corporate and financier preparations against potential dollar rivals, and incoming Basel and OECD Pillar Two regulations.

The GTR team look forward to returning to Geneva on September 19, 2024 and welcoming you to what is once again set to be another excellent GTR Commodities conference. Keep any eye out for future announcements!

“Great place, great summit, great outcome!”

J Arranz, Vale International

“Fantastic event to connect with the commodities market.”

J Mato Gomez, Abanca

“Seeing a large international professional community discussing world and market changes with such depth and transparency instills confidence and enthusiasm. Commodity trading and shipping is a sector that has direct implications on people’s lives, as well as on global finance. The spirit of GTR captures exactly this challenge of responsibility and modernity.”

R Melucci, Sirokos
